SINN FEIN PARLIAMENT WILL REJECT PEACE PROPOSALS OF ENGLAND, IT IS NOW BELIEVED

Irish Officials Convinced That Offer Was Not Last Word Of Lloyd George—Dail Eireann United On Matter and Not Likely to Split.

Dublin, Aug. 24.—Dail Eireann (Sinn Fein parliament) will reject the English peace proposals and will not make a counter offer, it was learned today from a prominent republican leader. The reason for this proposed action is that the Sinn Fein leaders are convinced that the English offer was not the last word of Premier Lloyd George and that further concessions might be expected. (Note—Both Premier Lloyd George and Marquis Curzon, the foreign secretary, announced in the British parliament last Friday that the English peace offer was the government's "final word" and that no further concessions would be made in the way.

PROGRESS MADE IN U. S. GERMAN PEACE PROGRAM

Separate Peace Will Be Signed Wednesday In Berlin.

DRAFT APPROVED

German Officials Say Responsibility for War Not Fixed.

Berlin, August 24.—Rapid progress is being made in establishing formal peace relations between the United States and the Central powers. The separate peace treaty between the United States and Germany is to be signed at the German foreign office today and a dispatch from Budapest said that the negotiations between America and Hungary for a separate peace treaty are proceeding satisfactorily.

President Ebert presided at a cabinet meeting late Tuesday afternoon when the treaty draft was approved. Chancellor Wirth and the foreign secretary outlined the details of the treaty to the ministers. Dr. Rosen, foreign secretary, was empowered to sign the document, while Ellis Loring Dressel, the United States Commissioner, previously had been empowered by the American state department both to negotiate the document and sign in behalf of the United States.

The text of the treaty has not been made public, but German officials declare there is nothing in it which puts responsibility for the war upon Germany.

It is said that the treaty is of a political nature and that a commercial treaty will be negotiated later.

The American treaty negotiations with Hungary at Budapest are being conducted by Grant Smith, the American Commissioner to Hungary. Baron Banfy, the Hungarian foreign minister had announced in the Hungarian Parliament at Budapest on Tuesday that Mr. Smith had been empowered by the American state department to negotiate a treaty and that the discussions were under way. Neither the Hungarian government officials or the American commissioner could say when it would be signed.

Berlin, Aug. 24.—The peace treaty between the United States and Germany will be signed today.

The cabinet gave the document final consideration at a special session early yesterday morning, which was attended by President Ebert.

The document will be signed by Ellis Loring Dressel, U. S. Commissioner, and Dr. Frederick Rosen, the German foreign minister, who has been empowered by President Ebert to affix his signature in behalf of Germany. Dressel has received full credentials from the Washington government for signing.

Beyond the statement that the treaty formally provides for the restoration of friendly relations and an immediate resumption of diplomatic and consular intercourse between the United States and Germany no information was obtainable last night regarding the contents of the instrument.

It was intimated, however, that there are no provisions included in it for the precise treatment of financial, commercial and economic issues which are still in abeyance. It is said that these will be made the subject of future negotiation.

PLANS UPSET

Washington, Aug. 24.—If the veterans' bureau decides to use Camp Sherman as one of the four great "universities" for veteran vocational education, Attorney General Daugherty "will dig up another camp" for his national reformatory plan, he stated last night.

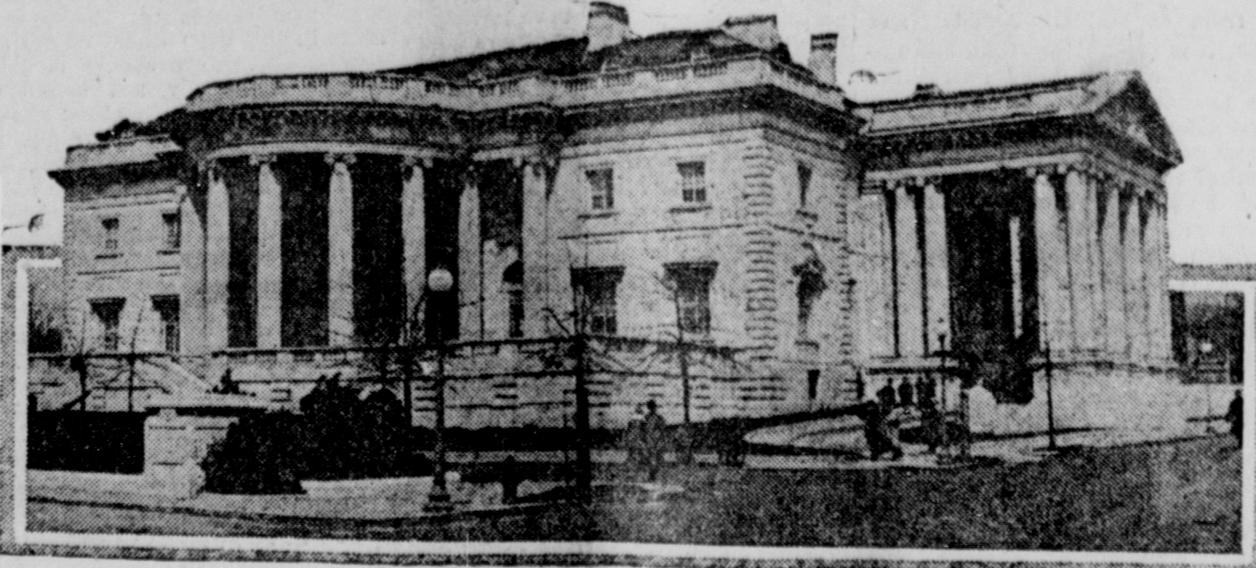

The attorney general may suggest to Director Forbes that Camp Grant, at Rockford, Ill., is better suited to the plans of the veterans' bureau, as having already been laid out by the army as an educational center.

DOBBIN SAFER

Washington, Aug. 24.—Back at his desk in the postoffice department after a trip to New York where Monday night he was one of those involved in an automobile crash, Postmaster General Will Hays told friends he was about convinced he had made a mistake in not sticking to the horse drawn vehicle left to him by his predecessor.

"It was at least safer," he said.

Disarmament Parley To Open In D. A. R. Hall

Memorial Hall, in the Daughters of the American Revolution Building probably will be the scene of the opening session of the Disarmament Conference. Meeting of the main delegation, according to tentative plans, will be held in the Pan American Union Building. The opening session will be attended by members of the Cabinet, the Diplomatic Corps and Congressional leaders and their wives. Some 2,000 persons are expected to witness the ceremonies. The photograph shows the Daughters of the American Revolution Building.

PANAMA GIVES IN; THREATENED WAR IS AVERTED

Costa Rica Will Occupy Disputed Area Without Interference.

Panama, August 24.—The threatened war between Panama and Costa Rica over disputed territory has been averted. The Panamanian government has given in to the United States and it was declared today that there was little likelihood of an armed clash.

The Dublin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that while a strong faction of Dail Eireann clings to the idea of a republic there is another important body that is willing to see how far the dominion status of Ireland will carry. The correspondent warned the public that the republican parliament will not split and that whatever answer is made to Premier Lloyd George will give the united opinion of the parliament.

"Dail Eireann in its reply to the English offer may ask if Premier Lloyd George accepts the dominion guarantee in the letter of General Smuts, Premier of South Africa, to Eamonn De Valera," said a Dublin despatch to the Daily Telegraph.

"Dail Eireann may demand, in view of the ultimate unity of Ireland that certain powers, particularly those of tax regulation, be conceded to the south of Ireland, denied to Ulster."

The Decorated Arm That Starts Uncle Sam's Newest Battleship.

Benny Leonard

See the smiling young fellow, and see his beautifully-decorated and powerful arm! Know why he is smiling? Because his is the arm that sets the machinery going which starts the newest addition to Uncle Sam's navy—the U. S. S. California, when the signal "Let's go" is given. The smiling young Benny Leonard of Missouri. When Benny Leonard you know, but Benny Leonard of Missouri. When Benny gets the signal he pulls the throttle-valve of the main generating plant of the mighty California.

PASTOR TO RETIRE FROM MINISTRY

Marion, Aug. 24.—After 43 years in the ministry, Rev. J. W. Donnan, partially blind, pastor of Asbury M. E. church here, has decided that it is too difficult for him longer to perform the duties of a pastor and shoulder the numerous public demands usually expected of a minister. Today he officially notified his flock that he would retire from the ministry following the preaching of his farewell next Sunday and go to Mansfield, where he will make his future home with his bride of a few weeks. Mrs. Donnan was formerly Miss Jennifer Ferguson of Mansfield and is said to be quite wealthy.

DOBBIN SAFER

Washington, Aug. 24.—Back at his desk in the postoffice department after a trip to New York where Monday night he was one of those involved in an automobile crash, Postmaster General Will Hays told friends he was about convinced he had made a mistake in not sticking to the horse drawn vehicle left to him by his predecessor.

"It was at least safer," he said.

LABOR TO PROTEST COMPANY ACTION

Marion, Aug. 24.—Erie federation No. 7 today announced that arrangements completed for a mass meeting tomorrow night in the largest theatre in Marion, contemplate the biggest indoor gathering of the kind ever assembled here. The meeting is to be a protest against the Erie railroad's action in transferring by lease its car repair shops and roundhouse here to the Railway Service Company, an Ohio corporation, formed by John D. Owens and other Marion capitalists for that purpose, and the alleged wholesale dismissal of union employees following a sharp reduction in wages and a demand for a physical examination by the railroad. It is estimated that the Erie employs about 3,000 men who are residents of Marion. Of this number only the shop crafts union men are affected by the transfer, these numbering about 500 or 600.

Springfield, Ohio, Aug. 24.—Administration forces of the public schools announced the names of two candidates who will run in opposition to two women backed by the City Federation of Women's Clubs. Chicago, Aug. 24.—Miss Miriam Burns, 17 year old golf champion stood out today as the foremost contender for the woman's western amateur championship in the tournament being played at Westmoreland. In the second flight today Miss Burns is paired with Miss Louise Ferguson.

DAYTON BUSINESS MAN IS MISSING; BELIEVED DROWNED

W. C. Littleton Believed Caught in Big French Swindle.

Dayton, August 24.—That W. C. Littleton, president of the Consolidated Auto Co. here, threw himself into the lake at Chicago, is the belief of his brother, E. H. Littleton, here, announced following the big Charles French swindle raid at Chicago. It is said that French assisted in the financing of the local company and took $30,000 of the notes away to dispose of. Part was paid for by a check, but the company has been notified that funds were tied up by the courts and the $30,000 in notes were returned by special mail.

A note has been drawn up in answer to the latest communication from Secretary of State Hughes forbidding police and it was expected by the Costa Ricans, it was announced.

The firm attitude of the United States, according to officials of the Panama government makes it possible for this republic to place all the blame upon Washington for its back down. It was said that this would clear the political atmosphere in this country to a large extent.

The populace at large has remained calm and there was no evidence today that anti-American feeling was increasing.

A note has been drawn up in answer to the latest communication from Secretary of State Hughes forbidding police and it was expected by the Costa Ricans, it was announced.

Senor Garaya, the Panamanian foreign minister, who has been in Washington, sent word that he is coming home and it is believed that he will have departed before the Panamanian communication is received there.

It is said that several other local concerns may be implicated in the deal. At the auto company it was said that the company may be nearly broke as a result of the deal although a hasty inventory indicates all obligations may be met. Business has not been suspended.

WILL NOT INSIST ON OPEN SESSIONS

Washington, Aug. 24.—Belief on the part of the administration that the government should not insist on open sessions at the disarmament conference became manifest both in Congress and among high administration officials.

In the senate the question furnished the theme for a colorful debate during which Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, who has been selected as a delegate to the conference led a fight against the senate action to pledge the American representatives to demand that the assembled powers sit with open doors.

At the same time among administration officials, it was outlined as a definite purpose of the government to refrain from determining objections to secret sessions. Not only was it indicated as the belief here that delicate subjects could not be profitably discussed in the open, but it was suggested that to insist on such a course might meet with such strong opposition from abroad as to wreck the whole program of the conference.

FREIGHT RATES IN OHIO TO BE CUT BY FOURTH

Believe Utilities Commission Will Order Rates Lowered 25%.

Columbus, O., Aug. 24.—That the state utilities commission will order a 25 per cent flat reduction of railroad freight rates, or will order the rates lowered to the level of August 25, 1920, when the last 40 per cent increase, authorized by the I. C. C., became effective, is the belief prevalent in state official circles here today. If the August 1920 level is restored, the reduction will amount to approximately 28 1/2 per cent net.

In view of the action of the commission recently in the slag rate case, when it ordered a 25 per cent freight rate reduction, persons closely connected with the commission's inquiry into the prevailing freight rate situation are inclined to believe the 25 per cent flat rate reduction will be ordered.

Road building material interests have promised state highways director that prices on their products will be cut when freight rates are reduced. Cement interests are the lone exception. Director Herrick is negotiating with them.

The letting of contracts for road improvement hereafter will depend on reductions in freight rates and in prices of road building materials, director Herrick stated.

BOARD OF PARDONS ASKED TO REVOKE GRANTED PAROLES

Governor Asks That Two Men Released, Be Returned to Prison.

BOADD

Columbus, O., Aug. 24.—Following its initial session, the new state pardon and parole board, through its secretary and fellow member, Rev. S. Rutledge, parole superintendent, sent a letter to Warden Thomas, of the penitentiary requesting details concerning the release on parole of Walter Brandt, convicted of burglary, and Leonard Lyons, sentenced for manslaughter, both of Cuyahoga county.

Governor Davis has asked the board to revoke the paroles of Brandt and Lyons, who were released by the old State clemency board on condition that they remain out of the state.

The board asked the warden to furnish it with the names of all parties interested in the release of these men, conditions under which the paroles, or releases, were granted, and whether, in the judgement of the prison officials, these conditions have been disobeyed. The board announced that its request to the warden "is made pursuant to the purpose of returning said criminals to the institution for further investigation and consideration."

The board Monday will hear applications for paroles at the Mansfield reformatory. It approved the plan of parole Supt. Rutledge for the appointment of local advisory parole committees in the various counties "so that each community from which a prisoner has been committed may have a voice in deciding whether he should be granted a parole."

MAN IS JAILED

Stewartsville, August 24.—Christopher Smith was arrested and jailed on a charge of using a shotgun to force return of money he lost in a poker game. He was released when the complainant withdrew the charge. Smith paid the costs.

HEWITT'S CONDITION SERIOUS.

Paris, August 24.—The condition of Peter Cooper Hewitt, American scientist and electrical inventor, who was operated on here for abdominal trouble Tuesday last, has been complicated by an attack of pneumonia. He was reported today to be unchanged.

PLANS UPSET

Washington, Aug. 24.—If the veterans' bureau decides to use Camp Sherman as one of the four great "universities" for veteran vocational education, Attorney General Daugherty "will dig up another camp" for his national reformatory plan, he stated last night.

STRIKE VOTE TO BE TAKEN BY "BIG FOUR" RAILROAD UNIONS WHEN BALLOT FORM APPROVED

Final Action of Possible Strike Will Be Delayed Until October 1—Trouble Stirred Up Over Refusal of Executives to Guarantee No More Wage Cuts.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 24.—Work of drafting a strike ballot so that all the issues involved in the dispute between the members of the "big four" railroad unions, the railroads and the railway labor board, may be submitted to the union membership, is being carried on today at the offices of Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the brotherhood of engineers in which the executives of the three other brotherhoods and of the switchmen's union are participating.

"We do not expect to complete the draft of the strike ballot before Monday, and perhaps not then," said Grand Chief Stone this morning.

"We wish to so phrase the ballot when it is submitted to the membership of the operating unions that they will have all issues clearly before them and may register an intelligent opinion."

When the form of the ballot is approved, it will be mailed to the local unions throughout the United States and Canada, and it is anticipated that at least a month will be required to collect and tabulate the returns, thus deferring final action on a strike, if one is called, until Oct. 1.

Action of the workers followed refusal of the executives of eastern and western railroads to assure the unions that no further wage cuts, in addition to that ordered by the railway labor board, effective July 1 were contemplated. The railroads also declined to promise to respect the present provision providing time and one half for all overtime over eight hours.

W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood of engineers.

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

Announcement of the terms of tax reform by the House Ways and Means Committee continues the series of remedial business measures to which President Harding and his administration have devoted themselves from the beginning. The new bill redeems the promise to repeal the excess profits tax removes the transportation taxes and provides better administration; and while there will be disappointment at the increasing of the corporation income tax instead of the development of some new course of revenue such as the sales tax, the changes now proposed must be regarded as of great value to business from the psychological point of view. The new bill will undoubtedly be revised more or less extensively in the Senate. Meantime the process of getting away from war taxes has at last begun, a fact which will prove of the utmost encouragement to many enterprises.

Money Banking and Exchange

Federal reserve officials have given every assurance that the general banking position was never better. Meantime, the continued inward flow of gold is raising the general reserve position of the banking system practically to pre-war levels. This influx which during the past week has again added several millions to our net gold, is now involving a movement from South America. Combined with fresh German reparation payments, and speculation in exchange, the situation as regards the purchasing power of foreign currency has been growing so serious as to give rise to the Administration's tentative proposal for an exchange conference to be held simultaneously with the disarmament conference. The rapid depreciation of the mark and of the various currencies of Southern and Eastern Europe adds force to the suggestion. Such a conference might result in improving some contemporary conditions, although ultimate correction of the exchanges must depend upon tax reduction and restoration of governmental solvency throughout Europe. Meantime the continued absence of any definite system of financing foreign trade and the growth of our one-sided "favorable" balance almost unavoidably tends to make exchange quotations less stable than they otherwise would be. The needs of Europe for our food stuffs will rather tend during coming months to accentuate this state of things.

Market Review and Outlook

Midsummer dullness in the stock market has continued to be characteristic during much of the week, such tactics have caused temporary fluctuations in some prominent instances, and the fact that business is still uncertain regarding Federal tax and tariff policies have been factors working against much improvement in prices. Special attacks upon industrials, such as the oils and rubbers, by bearish traders who have felt that there was a profit in such tactics, have caused temporary depressions. Except in special issues which are contending with conditions peculiar to themselves, the sinking spells that are frequently taking place are due more to professional activities than to genuine liquidation. When ever the market becomes oversold, as has been the case during the past several days, rebounds can be looked for due to short covering. In the long run a higher range of values will no doubt be brought about, as underlying conditions are in the main improving and the general run of stocks are not dear but there are still sufficient uncertainties in the situation that make for a cautious attitude pending their solution. With this in mind, not much change in the character of the market is anticipated.

James Moon, Old Town, entering a plea of guilty to a charge of non-support in Probate Court Tuesday was sentenced to a year in the Dayton Workhouse by Judge J. Carl Marshall, and fined $1,000 and the costs in the case, which will amount to more than $200.

Moon was arrested after a chase across the state and after he had eluded authorities on two previous occasions. He fled from the authorities in Sterling, Ind., the first time, and later was at Albany, N. Y., but again eluded the officers. He was recently arrested at Steubenville, Ohio and Probation Officer J. E. Watts returned him to this city Monday.

PARTITION OF ESTATE

Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy allowed a partition of property in the case of Sarah B. Holland against Jephtha Griffin, insane person and others, after Maria A. Wing was appointed guardian of Jephtha Griffin under $400 bond in Probate Court, and made a party to the suit.

Under the partition granted, the plaintiff has a right to seven-twentieths of the premises. Jephtha Griffin to seven-twentieths; William H. Griffin, Charles A. Griffin, Eudora Chidz and Chester Broady, to three-fifths; Bessie Gee, to a dower in three-fifths and subject to such dower; Cora Griffin and Florence Griffin, to one-hundredth of the estate. W. A. Anderson, Thomas Jackson and George Simpson were named commissioners to partition the property.

DECISION FAVORS PLAINTIFF

The motion for judgment favoring the plaintiff in the case of the Refiners Oil Company against J. J. Stont and others in Common Pleas Court was overruled yesterday by Judge Gowdy and the appeal bond fixed at $110.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED

Arthur Hudson was granted a divorce from Luella Hudson by Judge Gowdy in Common Pleas Court yesterday on the grounds that the defendant has been unlawfully absent for fifteen years. The decision ordered the plaintiff to pay the costs in the case.

BLOCKIE TO FIGHT

TEACHERS LISTEN TO ADDRESSES ON CHILDREN AT MEET

Dayton, Aug. 23.—The Miami Athletic club of this city, has matched Blockie Richards, local kayo artist, with "Fighting Dick" Leadman, Buffalo scrapper in a 12 round decision contest to take place at Triangle Park Pavilion Monday night, August 29th. Both boxers will make 126 pounds at 3:00 p. m.

Local promoters have been after this fight for some time and the Miami Athletic Club is putting up a neat sum for the bout. It is the ideal fight, two rough and tough sluggers and their clash should result in the best fight ever staged here.

INFANTS ENTERED IN BABY CLINIC TO RECEIVE GIFTS

Dr. Harold C. Messenger will have charge of the baby clinic to be conducted during the fall festival next week.

He will be assisted by Dr. R. H. Grube, county health commissioner, and other physicians.

Dr. Messenger has specialized in treatment of infants, and he will be particularly interested in the examination of the little ones. Doctors from different sections of the county are expected to assist in the work of determining the good and bad points of the babies.

The committee has announced that a change has been made in the plan for giving prizes. Instead of awarding premiums to the infants making the best showings, every child entered in the clinic and baby parades will receive a gift.

White children will be examined in the clinic, to be conducted at Red Cross headquarters on the second floor of the court house, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Friday is reserved for the colored parents to have their babies before the examining physicians and nurses.

The committee announces that a rest room will be fitted up for the mothers and babies in the corridor of the second floor of the court house, where drinking water, and other conveniences will be provided. A Red Cross booth will also be placed on the court house lawn near the east entrance during the festival. There in formation regarding the clinic and parades will be dispensed.

Babies will be examined from one until five o'clock each afternoon the clinic is held. Mothers will be given records of their children, and the committee and doctors feel that these will be of the greatest value to parents who will thus be given thorough knowledge of the physical condition of their infants.

Complete information concerning the baby parades can not be given out until the committee is able to determine when the exhibitions can take place.

The meeting of committee heads in connection with the baby clinic and parades has been postponed from Wednesday until Thursday afternoon at 3:30 at Red Cross headquarters.

CONFIDENCE MEN IN WESTERN STATE ARE DRIVEN OUT

Los Angeles—Affording an interesting example of devotion to his work, as a defender of the public welfare, Thomas Lee Woolwine, District Attorney of Los Angeles County, Nemesis of confidence men and crooks in general, is a man whose name is whispered in awe in every underworld of the West.

Woolwine's name has become known throughout the west and southwest for his untiring efforts in driving out of Southern California an organization of the most notorious confidence men in the world. What to the average person seems the most amazing part of it all is that he acted single handed, except for the assistance of the men in his own office. He was backed up, however, by the Southern California press which brought the moral support of an enraged citizenry, and this did much toward bringing convictions, once evidence had been collected.

As a result of Woolwine's work, "bunko" men have been driven out of Los Angeles County. But this was not accomplished until confidence men in Los Angeles City alone fleeced confessed victims out of $900,000.

Woolwine was re-elected last Fall by a large majority for another term of four years. He made a good race three years ago in the primary contest for Governor and his name has recently been mentioned in connection with the 1922 Gubernatorial contest.

"The beginning of my war against confidence crooks started about a year ago," said Mr. Woolwine. "Although there had been persistent rumors of the presence of a gang of 'bunko steers' at work in Los Angeles no information had been brought to my office for some months by the police authorities as to any so-called confidence game.

"This attitude of silence could not be accounted for until one day J. B. Norris, of Decatur, Ill., came to me personally and related how he had been fleeced by means of a so-called 'pay-off' game, consisting of a fictitious stock speculation, and how he had been unable to get any assistance whatsoever from police authorities. He maintained that, on the contrary, he had been discouraged in every way possible by the police in his efforts to locate the perpetrators of the crime.

"An investigation was begun immediately by the District Attorney's office and by means of publicity through the newspapers and by circulars sent broadcast throughout the United States and other means, the general scope of this conspiracy and the enormous toll of these crooks were uncovered.

"Norris was found to have been fleeced by Everett A. ("Big Hutch") Hutchings and Hugh Trainor. We finally located "Big Hutch" by means of many thousands of circulars containing his picture. I sent Malcolm McLaren, an investigator of great ability who worked with me in many cases of national note to New York, where he arrested Hutchings in a fashionable hotel.

Hutchings employed high-priced lawyers and it took seven months to bring him from the State of New York to California for trial. I went to New York personally in this matter to represent the state of California in the courts but the real work was done by Mr. Johnston, of the District Attorney's office in New York, who ably handled the court proceedings there.

"By months of patient endeavor the District Attorney's office of Los Angeles County has succeeded in bringing to trial and convicting the most successful and vicious members of this coterie of confidence-game crooks or their confederates as follows:

"E. A. Hutchings, alias Hofer, alias 'Big Hutch' alias Mr. Rogers.

"Willie Dean.

"Fred Mayne, alias Hamilton alias Waldren.

"O. B. Berry, a banker.

"Walter Lips, former Chief of the Los Angeles Fire Department, and recently a deputy sheriff.

Cedarville College

Calls Upon You To Consider Its Work In Your Midst

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE secured one-third of the funds with which the present College building was erected, in other places than Cedarville.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has increased its endowment from $20,000 to $115,000 all of which except $21,000 was given by contributors outside of Cedarville and Greene County.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has beautified, through the gifts of contributors outside of Greene County and Cedarville, the ground upon which the College building stands until it is one of the most beautiful of campuses in the United States.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has injected new and broader and greater spirit into public education in Cedarville and Greene County.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has brought to the door of every young man and woman, whether rich or poor, every advantage of higher education at a much lower cost than they could secure it elsewhere.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has trained one thousand young men and women, most of them from Cedarville and Greene County.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE has fitted these young people for all honorable and useful pursuits in life. They are Ministers of the Gospel, Teachers, Physicians, Lawyers, Missionaries, workers in Social Service, Farmers, Business Men, Public Officials, Librarians, Artists, Students of Theology, Medical Students, other Students, Housekeepers, etc. Cedarville and Greene County are justly proud of these men and women who received their training in Cedarville College, and who are doing a splendid work in all parts of the world.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE for more than fifteen years charged only $20 and $26.50 a year in tuition fees. Even during those years many a deserving youth received FREE tuition. For many years following, students were charged only $30 and $36 a year, and not until the war period did the College charge $40 and $50 a year. The tuition of Cedarville College always has been and yet is lower than that of any other reputable College. During all of its career, Cedarville College has furnished FREE scholarships to deserving students of limited means.

AT any time in its history, a student could secure his training in Cedarville College, at a total cost of from $75 to $281, according to his proximity to the College and the year of his attendance.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE through its entire career has stood four-square for high and sound moral and religious training. It has given the Bible and religion a large place in its curriculum. Its Chapel services are characterized for reverence and spiritual uplift. The College has the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and these organizations not only develop the religious life of the students but bring the students of the College into touch with national and international religious movements.

THE influence of Cedarville College for permanent good has been felt in practically every home, school and church of Cedarville and community; aye, it has gone beyond the immediate environs out into the nation and the world.

NOW Cedarville College calls for $200,000 only, to add to its endowment and its buildings and equipment that it may take its place in the splendid group of Association Colleges of our own grand Commonwealth and do its whole duty by your sons and daughters.

DO YOU KNOW That students will not, and should not, patronize Cedarville College in the future unless it becomes an Association Institution?

DO YOU KNOW That the so-called "financial and industrial depression" cannot be pleaded as an obstacle in the way of your help because five long years are given you in which to pay your pledge?

DO YOU KNOW That your pledge will not only help Cedarville College to become a standardized Institution, but it will help to establish the College in Cedarville for all time to come?

DO YOU KNOW That the people of a great city want Cedarville College, and that if it is good enough for them to TAKE, it is good enough for us to KEEP?

TODAY the call of Cedarville College comes to you strong, true, and clear to lay aside all that would hinder you, and unite in giving to this Institution which has done so much for your children and you, and is anxious to do more; that this College "of the people, by the people and for the people" of Cedarville and Greene County may not perish.

DINNER STORIES

After a ruthless process of refection there were five applicants for the post of errand boy left for the head of the firm himself to interview.

It was one of his flippant mornings, and he sought to amuse himself by asking the eager boys puzzling and quite irrelevant questions to test their general knowledge.

"How far away from the earth is the north star?" was the question he fired at the third shiny-faced youngster.

"I'm sorry I cannot give you the exact figures offhand, sir," was the reply, "but on a rough estimate I should say that it is far enough away not to interfere with me running errands."

He got the post.

Betty's grandmother had died in a distant town, and about the same time her little dog was poisoned and died. Betty said to her mother one morning, "Mamma, isn't it strange I cried more for my little dog when it died than I did when my grandmother died?"

"No, that is not strange," replied her mother; "you were with your little dog every day, and your grandmother living away, you hardly knew her."

Betty replied: "Yes, and I didn't raise grandmother from a pup."

Lucie, who is five, does not like to say her prayers at night when she is sleepy.

"Did you say your little prayer last night?" her mother asked her one morning at breakfast.

"No," said the little girl. "I was too sleepy last night, mamma, but Sunday night, when you put me to bed before I was sleepy, I prayed seven prayers—enough to last me all this week."

The office boy opened the door and looked in.

"My grandmother—" he began.

"Bah!" snorted the boss. "Has just died—"

"Wow!" yelled the boss.

"Has just died and left me a lot of money—and I've resigned. See!"

And he softly closed the door.

He was from the city and had been hired the previous evening by a farmer to do such labor as is expected of farm hands. He had gone to bed immediately, resolved to begin the new life with zest in the morning. But at what seemed to him the middle of the night a horny hand awoke him, and he heard the voice of his employer saying: "Here, you! get up! It's time to go and dig the potatoes."

Rousing himself with an effort, he rubbed his eyes, and said: "But it's still dark. Do we have to steal up on them?"

"You say you were held up by a footpad with revolver this morning. At what time?"

"Five minutes to one."

"How can you fix the time so precisely?"

"Because I could see the church clock and I noticed the hands were in the same position as mine."

"It is the duty of everybody to make at least one person happy during the week," said the Sunday school teacher. "Have you done so, Willie?"

"Yes'm," the boy replied.

"That's right. What did you do?"

"I went to see my aunt, and she was happy when I left."

Feeling instinctively that something wrong was going on downstairs, the boys' mother softly descended. Imagine her horror to find her ingenious offsprings attempting to saw off one end of the piano. While the spankings were in progress, Charles softly explained that they had dropped a 'whole dime in your old piano an' jus' had to get it out, mother!"

DINNER STORIES

C. Winslow, a Terre Haute business man, recently went back to his home town for a visit. While there he met an elderly village character in the street. The man was bent and complaining. "Why, how are you?" began Mr. Winslow genially. "Not very well; fact, I'm pretty poorly," whined the man. "You see, I have the most terrible misery, here," and he indicated his stomach. "But I thought it was in your neck when I was home last," Mr. Winslow commented.

"Yes, it was there then," the man agreed, "but, you see, since then I swallowed that misery and it's been in my stomach ever since."

Gooseberry tart and apple pudding reposed in all their luscious temptings on the table in front of him. The boy liked both. He was torn by conflicting emotions.

"Which will you have?" his mother asked.

"Gooseberry tart," he replied after a long and painful struggle.

"Tart what?" said his parent, wishing to make his add "please."

He didn't understand. "Tart what?" she repeated sharply.

Then the boy had an idea which seemed to solve his difficulties and make the world bright once more.

"Tart first," he answered.

COURTS SHOULD BE MORE STRICT WITH DIVORCES—GOWDY

The ease with which it is possible to obtain a divorce in many courts, resulting in many actions for separation being filed citing reasons that are so unimportant that they are almost absurd, has the tendency to increase the spread of the divorce evil.

So says Judge R. L. Gowdy, of Greene County Common Pleas Court, musing on the many and varied grounds for divorce submitted in petitions which have come before him, since he assumed the bench. Recent cases filed asking for divorce and stating what would appear as more serious grounds for the necessity of a separation, set the jurist off on the theme of divorce.

"Attorneys are learning that they will have to present more serious reasons in their petitions in order to get divorces in this court," said the judge. "I have refused several divorces which presented grounds which were insignificant compared with the seriousness of the problem of divorce," he said.

"This thing of charging the other party with gross neglect of duty, because he does not furnish all the silk stockings milady wants over a period of probably three or four months, or because he or she has neglected the least important wants of the other party for a short time, is, to my belief, not sufficient grounds for divorce."

"Where desertion is charged in a divorce petition, it is necessary that the offending party has deserted at least three years before the time of filing the petition. Yet if he or she stays at home, and at least performs three-fourths of his or her duty, neglecting those duties only in some minor fashion, or for a short period of six months, or even less, divorce can and is being granted every day. The ground, I believe, should be more in relation as to importance."

"On the other hand, I have granted two divorces recently on grounds of gross neglect, in each case the defendant being the husband who deserted his wife for only a short time. The desertion, however, occurred at about the time plaintiff in each case was to become a mother, and I considered the seriousness of such an action sufficient ground on which to grant divorce."

Judge Gowdy explained that many cases have been filed with only minor causes why divorce should be granted stated in the petition. "I intend to be consistent in my disposition of these cases," he said. "If they take the matter to the Supreme Court and I am instructed to grant divorces in cases where the grounds appear to me to be too slight, I shall conform with the order, but until then, I propose to see that families are separated only on charges that are really serious, and not to grant separations promiscuously on grounds that in many cases, are so insignificant, they are absurd."

WOMEN WHO OVERWORK

"May work from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well dressed and tidy, women continually overdo and will suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse knowing full well that they need help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine with specific value which overcomes many of the worst forms of female complaints, as the letters constantly being published in this paper will prove.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

A Simple Home Supper.

Clam Chowder makes a nourishing supper dish, but the average housekeeper rather dreads making it because most clam chowder recipes call for a good deal of fussing. The recipe given below, however, is an extremely simple one, most of the ingredients being put in at once. It might almost be called "the lazy man's way" of making this dish, but the result is nevertheless delicious.

Eastern Made Clam Chowder

Southern Corn Pone

Coffee Cream Pudding

Iced Cocoa

Easily Made Clam Chowder: Fry until crisp 6 slices of fat salt pork cut into narrow strips, then put these into a kettle with 6 chopped and peeled onions, 4 diced tomatoes, small crackers which have been moistened with hot milk and 2 quarts of clams that have had their necks removed and discarded. Now add 1 teaspoon salt and a little pepper to 2 tablespoons of the hot fat in which the pork was fried, and turn this fat into the kettle on top of the clams; cover with cold water and let come to a boil, then simmer for 3-4 of an hour. At the end of this time add 5 large pared potatoes cut into small pieces and cook until the potatoes are done. Thicken with 2 tablespoons of flour mixed to a paste with a little cold milk, and serve at once.

Southern Corn Pone: Mix together

1 quart of cornmeal, 1 tablespoon of salt, 1 tablespoon melted lard, and enough cold water to make a soft dough. Mould this dough with the hands into thin, oblong cakes (the old-fashioned Southern cooks did this by tossing the dough over and over very lightly until each cake was an oval mound, higher in the middle than at the ends). Place these cakes in a greased baking pan and bake quickly in a hot oven. These cakes are broken, not cut, when eaten and plenty of butter should be used on them.

Coffee Cream Sponge: Dissolve 2 1/4 tablespoons of granulated gelatin in 1 cup of hot milk, then add 1 cup of strained strong coffee and 1 cup of sugar. Mix well, and when the sugar is dissolved, strain and cool. As it begins to thicken, whip it with an eggbeater of the wheel type until light, and fold in the stiffly-whipped whites of 2 eggs and 1 teaspoon of vanilla extract. (To make a Bavarian cream of this, fold in 2 cups of stiffly-whipped cream.) Chill on ice before serving.

Reader Friend—Answer: Mustard Pickles: Slice and combine 2 quarts of green tomatoes, 1 quart of the small cucumbers and 1 cauliflower, broken into flowerets; add 1 quart of small whole onions, and cover these vegetables with a brine (using 1 cup of salt to 5 quarts of water) and let stand for 24 hours. Then scald in the same salty water and drain. Now make a sauce of 1 quart of vinegar, 2 cups of brown sugar, 2 tablespoons of dry mustard and 1 cup of flour, mixing this well together, then heating it until thick. Pour this while hot over the vegetables in hot, sterilized glass jars and seal at once. (If desired, the green tomatoes may be omitted in this recipe. Or, if liked, sliced green peppers may be added to it.)

LOOK YOUNGER

Care-worn, nervous, exhausted women need Bitro-Phosphate, a pure organic phosphate dispensed by Sayre & Hemphill that New York and Paris physicians prescribe to increase weight and strength and to revive youthful looks and feelings.

You can smile about it now. But it was a tragedy then. No fun at all to wait for second table—to hear the folks praising the tenderness of the turkey, and the goodness of the cranberries. Not pleasant at all to stand with an "aching void," wondering if there would be anything left. But, oh, the enjoyment when your chance finally came.

Every meal was a treat in those days! Remember the wonderful bread and butter? Call back the memory of those days with bread that has the keenest eating enjoyment you've ever known—

MARGARET VISITS MRS. COREY'S SCHOOL

Margaret received a note from Mrs. Corey, the director of the girl's school Joan attended, asking her to call.

She said nothing to Joan about it, but to Hannah she frankly confided that she was worried.

"I am afraid Joan has broken the rules again," she said. Only a short time before Joan had been reprimanded for some misdemeanor, trifling to be sure, yet causing her mother to feel anxious. "I do hope she has done nothing very wrong."

"Don't you worry ma'am. Miss Joan ain't goin' very far out of the way. Children will be children, and them fancy schools fergits it sometimes. I ain't no ways taken up with them schools nohow. Seems to me the kind the United States has for the children is good enough for anybody, even Miss Joan.

Ever since Joan had gone to Mrs. Corey's school had invariably called it a "fancy school" and rather scorned it.

Sometimes Margaret wondered, in the back of her mind, if by any quirk of fate she had made an irretrievable mistake in bringing Joan up as she had—in allowing her perfect freedom of thought and action.

"I won't believe I am wrong!" It is the child's right," she said aloud, as she so often did when a bit worried about Joan, or something she had done. It was almost as if she were trying to persuade herself.

In an effort to draw Joan out, Margaret tried, in a roundabout way, to lead her on to talk of the school.

her classmates and happenings, hoping to get some inkling of what Mrs. Corey wanted.

"I heard Joan express herself in a way of which I cannot approve," Mrs. Corey said to Margaret. The principal of this girl's school was a woman about 50, tall, stately, and very dignified. Margaret was a bit frightened, yet replied compositely:

"Please tell what she did, or said, Mrs. Corey."

"It perhaps was not much in itself, yet I fear for the effect of such remarks upon the other girls," the lady replied. "She claimed that we, the girls—were accountable to no one, not to me, their parents to no one but themselves. To say the least, her ideas are peculiar for a girl not yet 15 years old.

"Has she done anything out of the way?" Margaret asked quietly.

"Why, no, nothing particular. She is rather headstrong, as doubtless you know. But she has great pride in her attainments, so gives us little trouble in the recitation rooms. As she is a day pupil we of course know nothing of what she does when she leaves school—this latter remark in a tone that conveyed doubt as to how Joan might be managed when away from her.

"She only says what she believes, in the child's right," she said aloud, as she so often did when a bit worried about Joan, or something she had done. It was almost as if she were trying to persuade herself.

agony because I was trained every moment of the time—loved, yes, but never allowed to use the brain, heart or conscience I possessed. Someone always used theirs for me.

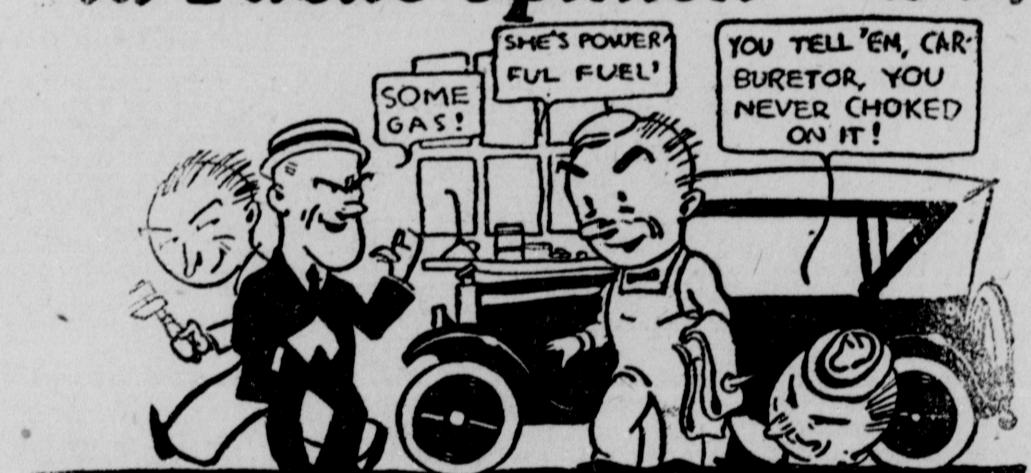

"I made up my mind that MY child should come up untrammeled. I hoped she would grow up, sweet and gentle like some delicately scented flower, but even if she grew into an unattractive weed, I believed she would have more real joy out of life than if I pruned and cut off all the little shoots of her mind, as mine were cut off. I may have been wrong in this attitude, I may be wrong in continuing to allow her to be her own guide as to what is right, and what is wrong. But I shall not change my plans for her. I am sorry you should think it necessary to worry because of anything Joan said. She is sweet and she is honest and I have trusted her always. She has never disappointed me."

"You have, to say the least, peculiar ideas of how a child should be managed," Mrs. Corey ejaculated. I did not know that you, also, held the same ideas I heard your daughter expound so glibly to the other girls. I shall have to see that she does not do it again. I am glad to have met you, Mrs. Hayden," rising, "and good-afternoon."

Margaret felt much as a child who had been sent home for misbehavior might feel. Yet as she walked slowly away she smiled to herself. What ever people might say, how feel about Joan, no one ever would be bored with her.
